

Above I have added an example how preview things work it just fetches "logo" and title of that page like in the given image we have a url "https://jobs.sap.com/content/SAP-Academy-Customer-Success/?locale=en_US" if we access it we can see there is a tile

We see a logo and a text that's only the thing displayed in preview. Preview contains the following things

1. Domain logo
2. Page title
3. Page description

Why it is not possible in our System -: In the current collateral sharing system, a single file renders the collateral details, such as PDFs, videos, etc. For image previews to function correctly, there needs to be one page per collateral item, corresponding to the total number of collaterals. Please note it should be added as a functionality and should be a new engineering requirement.
